

Wash-Down Stainless Steel Worm Gearmotors

Rated IP-69K for protection against dust and high temperature, high pressure water ingress.

Our new stainless steel worm gearmotors are rated IP-69K, and are ideal for machines and systems that are subject to particularly intensive cleaning. Regardless of whether the gearmotors are used for materials handling, intralogistics or clean applications, their hygienic properties, long operating life and low maintenance make them particularly well suited to production conditions in the food and beverage industry, pharmaceutical industry, and in permanently wet environments. This product also meets EU Hygienic standard for food machinery.

- Large water tight terminal box in 12 o'clock position for easy access.
- 230/460VAC, 1/2 HP inverter-duty, 3-phase winding
- Torque range: from 158 to 638 lb-in
- Speed range: from 29 to 176 rpm
- Food grade lubricant

Type 56R1BSPP-50JW/H stainless steel hollow shaft gearmotor

Typical Applications

Typical applications include conveyor systems, food processing equipment, pharmaceutical manufacturing machinery and applications where hygiene and cleanliness are critical.
